Principal activities

ARACY was established in 2002 for the charitable purpose of facilitating, coordinating and supporting the development of knowledge through research and advocacy, for the implementation of evidence-based policies within Australia to improve the wellbeing and life chances of Australia's children and young people. ARACY does this through a national action agenda and measurement framework, The Nest.

A series of member meetings were held at the end of May 2024 to vote on changes to ARACY membership and a new Constitution. We are pleased to report that the resolution to endorse the Constitution for ARACY was wholly supported by participating voters.

The new Constitution is one that:

- Properly reflects ARACY's current purpose and the work we undertake now;
- Enhances the likelihood of ARACY being endorsed as a health promotion charity by the Australian Charities and Not for Profit Commission, as it can no longer be a research institute;
- Addresses certain operational issues with the current Constitution;
- Is a useful and accessible rulebook for the organisation;
- Reflects modern governance practice; and
- Will create a solid foundation for ARACY into the future.

Whilst our purpose has changed, ARACY remains as it was established, a not-for-profit public company limited by guarantee.

Likely Developments and Expected Results

ARACY's Strategic Goals for the three years from 2020-21 to 2023-24 are that:

Directors' Report

For the Year Ended 30 June 2024

Likely Developments and Expected Results (Continued)

- The voices of children and young people across Australia are captured and used to refresh the Nest; Australia's wellbeing framework for children and young people.
- Early Childhood Development will be the focus of increased collective action and advocacy including a shared vision and plan to redress the systemic barriers, problems and gaps that are inhibiting Australian children from thriving in the first 1000 days and beyond.
- Policy, research and practice discussions about the social determinants of health as drivers of health and wellbeing of children and young people will be influenced and informed by reliable data and evidence.
- All people in Australia working with and on behalf of children, young people and their families are highly skilled in the science of brain development.
- The 'middle years' will be elevated in the national discourse as an important period of a young person's development and a new collective will be convened to progress a national policy response.

The enabling activities that support our aspiration and intent are:

- Securing our financial sustainability
- Strengthening our engagement with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, communities and organisations
- Enhancing employee wellbeing
- Strengthening our reputation and relationships
- Measuring our impact
- Continuously improving our processes, systems and infrastructure

During the 2023-24 Financial Year, ARACY continued to work under our strategy, seeing significant progress in areas such as: national focus on the early years through the development of a National Early Years Strategy (launched in May 2024) and the progress of a Productivity Commission review into early childhood, the foundation of the Investment Dialogue for Australia's Children with a cross philanthropy-government Roundtable convened in December 2023, public support for the Voice Referendum campaign, a brand and constitutional review and refresh, along with significant work through our Thriving Queensland Kids Partnership including hosting the Queensland Brain Builders Summit.

In updating The Nest we are purposefully focussing on middle years children (8 -14) - a largely under-represented cohort in research. We plan to work with the children as co-investigators and have embraced a research process deeply embedded in Indigenous Knowledges Systems to assist us in decolonising our practices through a relationship with Cobble Cobble man, Dr. John Davis from Riteways. The refresh of The Nest will start with First Nations first before working with other cohorts in the middle years age range.

Priority was given to collaboration and working in partnership over the financial year, with ARACY undertaking leadership in a range of forums including with the National Children's Commissioner on the Act for Children Campaign, as a member of Thrive By Five, participant in the Raise the Age Coalition and the Intergenerational Fairness Coalition, and funding partner of the ACOSS and University of Sydney Poverty and Inequality Research partnership. In collaboration with Uniting NSW and the Stronger Smarter Institute we continued the Maximising the Middle project in the areas of Campbelltown and Penrith in western Sydney, focused on seeing children aged 8-14 years thrive.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2024

The financial report covers Australian Research Alliance for Children & Youth Limited as an individual entity. Australian Research Alliance for Children & Youth Limited is a not-for-profit Company, registered and domiciled in Australia.

The functional and presentation currency of Australian Research Alliance for Children & Youth Limited is Australian dollars.

Comparatives are consistent with prior years, unless otherwise stated.

1 Basis of Preparation

The financial statements are general purpose financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with the Australian Accounting Standards - Simplified Disclosures and the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012.

Australian Accounting Standards set out accounting policies that the AASB has concluded would result in financial statements containing relevant and reliable information about transactions, events and conditions. Material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are presented below and have been consistently applied unless stated otherwise.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs modified, where applicable, by the measurement at fair value of selected non-current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities.

Material accounting policy information relating to the preparation of these financial statements are presented below, and are consistent with prior reporting periods unless otherwise stated.

2 Summary of Material Accounting Policies

(a) Revenue and other income

Revenue from contracts with customers

Revenue is recognised on a basis that reflects the transfer of control of promised goods or services to customers at an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to receive in exchange for those goods or services.

Generally the timing of the payment for sale of goods and rendering of services corresponds closely to the timing of satisfaction of the performance obligations, however where there is a difference, it will result in the recognition of a receivable, contract asset or contract liability.

None of the revenue streams of the Company have any significant financing terms as there is less than 12 months between receipt of funds and satisfaction of performance obligations.

Specific revenue streams

The revenue recognition policies for the principal revenue streams of the Company are:

Operating Grants

When the Company receives operating grant revenue, it assesses whether the contract is enforceable and has sufficiently specific performance obligations in accordance to AASB 15.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2024

2 Summary of Material Accounting Policies (Continued)

Specific revenue streams (Continued)

When both these conditions are satisfied, the Company:

- identifies each performance obligation relating to the grant;
- recognises a contract liability for its obligation under the agreement; and
- recognises revenue as it satisfies its performance obligations.

Where the contract is not enforceable or does not have sufficiently specific performance obligations, the Company:

- recognises the asset received in accordance with the recognition requirements of other applicable accounting standards (eg AASB 9, AASB 16, AASB 116 and AASB 138);
- recognises related amounts (being contributions by owners, lease liability, financial instruments, provisions, revenue or contract liability arising from a contract with a customer); and
- recognises income immediately in profit or loss as the difference between the initial carrying amount of the asset and the related amount.

If a contract liability is recognised as a related amount above, the Company recognises income in profit or loss when or as it satisfies its obligations under the contract.

Training

Training revenue is generated from the rendering of training services. Payments are normally receipted in advance of providing the services, therefore revenue is initially deferred as a contract liability. The performance obligation is satisfied and revenue recognised when the services are provided.

Conferences and events

Conference and event revenue is generated from the rendering of conference or event services. Payments are normally receipted in advance of providing the services, therefore revenue is initially deferred as a contract liability. The performance obligation is satisfied and revenue recognised when the services are provided.

Other income

Other income is recognised on an accruals basis when the Company is entitled to it.

(b) Income Tax

The Company is exempt from income tax under Division 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2024

2 Summary of Material Accounting Policies (Continued)

(c) Goods and services tax (GST)

Revenue, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of GST.

Cash flows in the statement of cash flows are included on a gross basis and the GST component of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities which is recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is classified as operating cash flows.

(d) Plant and equipment

Each class of plant and equipment is carried at cost less, where applicable, any accumulated depreciation and impairment.

Depreciation

Plant and equipment is depreciated on a straight-line basis over the asset's useful life to the Company, commencing when the asset is ready for use.

The depreciation rates used for each class of depreciable asset are shown below:

| Fixed asset class   | Depreciation rate |
|---------------------|-------------------|
| Plant and Equipment | 20%-33%           |

At the end of each annual reporting period, the depreciation method, useful life and residual value of each asset is reviewed. Any revisions are accounted for prospectively as a change in estimate.

(e) Financial instruments

Financial instruments are recognised initially on the date that the Company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

On initial recognition, all financial instruments are measured at fair value plus transaction costs (except for instruments measured at fair value through profit or loss where transaction costs are expensed as incurred).

Financial assets

All recognised financial assets are subsequently measured in their entirety at either amortised cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets.

Classification

On initial recognition, the Company classifies its financial assets into the following categories, those measured at:

- amortised cost

For the Year Ended 30 June 2024

(e) Financial instruments (Continued)

Financial assets (Continued)

- fair value through profit or loss - FVTPL
- fair value through other comprehensive income - equity instrument (FVOCI - equity)

Amortised cost

The Company's financial assets measured at amortised cost comprise trade and other receivables and cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position.

Fair value through other comprehensive income - Equity instruments

The Company has no investments in listed and unlisted entities.

Financial assets through profit or loss

The Company has no investments that fall under this category.

Impairment of financial assets

Impairment of financial assets is recognised on an expected credit loss (ECL) basis for the following assets:

- financial assets measured at amortised cost

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial assets has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating ECL, the Company considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis based on the Company's historical experience and informed credit assessment and including forward looking information.

The Company uses the presumption that a financial asset is in default when:

- the other party is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Company in full, without recourse to the Company to actions such as realising security (if any is held); or
- the financial assets is more than 90 days past due.

Credit losses are measured as the present value of the difference between the cash flows due to the Company in accordance with the contract and the cash flows expected to be received. This is applied using a probability weighted approach.

Trade receivables

Impairment of trade receivables have been determined using the simplified approach in AASB 9 which uses an estimation of lifetime expected credit losses.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2024

The amount of the impairment is recorded in a separate allowance account with the loss being recognised in finance expense. Once the receivable is determined to be uncollectable then the gross carrying amount is written off against the associated allowance.

Where the Company renegotiates the terms of trade receivables due from certain customers, the new expected cash flows are discounted at the original effective interest rate and any resulting difference to the carrying value is recognised in profit or loss.

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost

Impairment of other financial assets measured at amortised cost are determined using the expected credit loss model in AASB 9. On initial recognition of the asset, an estimate of the expected credit losses for the next 12 months is recognised. Where the asset has experienced significant increase in credit risk then the lifetime losses are estimated and recognised.

Financial liabilities

The Company measures all financial liabilities initially at fair value less transaction costs, subsequently financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

The financial liabilities of the Company comprise trade payables, bank and other loans and lease liabilities.

(f) Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period the Company determines whether there is evidence of an impairment indicator for non-financial assets.

Where an indicator exists and regardless for indefinite life intangible assets and intangible assets not yet available for use, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated.

Where assets do not operate independently of other assets, the recoverable amount of the relevant cash-generating unit (CGU) is estimated.

The recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is the higher of the fair value less costs of disposal and the value in use. Value in use is the present value of the future cash flows expected to be derived from an asset or cash-generating unit.

Where the recoverable amount is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss.

Reversal indicators are considered in subsequent periods for all assets which have suffered an impairment loss.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2024

2 Summary of Material Accounting Policies (Continued)

(g) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprises cash on hand, demand deposits and short-term investments which are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

(h) Leases

At inception of a contract, the Company assesses whether a lease exists.

Right-of-use asset

At the lease commencement, the Company recognises a right-of-use asset and associated lease liability for the lease term. The lease term includes extension periods where the Company believes it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised.

The right-of-use asset is measured using the cost model, depreciated over the lease term on a straight-line basis and assessed for impairment in accordance with the impairment of assets accounting policy.

Lease liability

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments at the commencement of the lease. The discount rate is the rate implicit in the lease, however where this cannot be readily determined then the Company's incremental borrowing rate is used.

Subsequent to initial recognition, the lease liability is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method. The lease liability is remeasured whether there is a lease modification, change in estimate of the lease term or index upon which the lease payments are based (e.g. CPI) or a change in the Company's assessment of lease term.

Where the lease liability is remeasured, the right-of-use asset is adjusted to reflect the remeasurement or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

(i) Employee benefits

Provision is made for the Company's liability for employee benefits, those benefits that are expected to be wholly settled within one year have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled.

Employee benefits expected to be settled more than one year after the end of the reporting period have been measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits. In determining the liability, consideration is given to employee wage increases and the probability that the employee may satisfy vesting requirements. Changes in the measurement of the liability are recognised in profit or loss.

(j) Economic dependence

Australian Research Alliance for Children & Youth Limited is dependent on the Department of Social Services Programs and Paul Ramsay Foundation for the majority of its revenue used to operate the business. At the date of this report the directors have no reason to believe the Department of Social Services Programs and Paul Ramsay Foundation will not continue to support Australian Research Alliance for Children & Youth Limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2024

3 Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The directors make estimates and judgements during the preparation of these financial statements regarding assumptions about current and future events affecting transactions and balances.

These estimates and judgements are based on the best information available at the time of preparing the financial statements, however as additional information is known then the actual results may differ from the estimates.

The significant estimates and judgements made have been described below.

Key estimates - revenue recognition

When determining the nature, timing and amount of revenue to be recognised, the following critical estimates and judgements were applied and are considered to be those that have the most significant effect on revenue recognition.

Performance obligations under AASB 15

To identify a performance obligation under AASB 15, the promise must be sufficiently specific to be able to determine when the obligation is satisfied. Management exercises judgement to determine whether the promise is sufficiently specific by taking into account any conditions specified in the arrangement, explicit or implicit, regarding the promised goods or services. In making this assessment, management includes the nature/ type, cost/value, quantity and the period of transfer related to the goods or services promised

Key estimates - fair value of financial Instruments

The Company has certain financial assets and liabilities which are measured at fair value. Where fair value has not able to be determined based on quoted price, a valuation model has been used. The inputs to these models are observable, where possible, however these techniques involve significant estimates and therefore fair value of the instruments could be affected by changes in these assumptions and inputs.

Key estimates - receivables

The receivables at reporting date have been reviewed to determine whether there is any objective evidence that any of the receivables are impaired. An impairment provision is included for any receivable where the entire balance is not considered collectible. The impairment provision is based on the best information at the reporting date.

Key estimates - impairment & useful life of plant and equipment

The Company assesses impairment at the end of each reporting period by evaluating conditions specific to the Company that may be indicative of impairment triggers. Recoverable amounts of relevant assets are reassessed using value-in-use calculations which incorporate various key assumptions. As described in Note 3(d), the Entity reviews the estimated useful lives of plant and equipment at the end of each annual reporting year.

Key judgements - incremental borrowing rate

Where the interest rate implicit in a lease cannot be readily determined, an incremental borrowing rate is estimated to discount future lease payments to measure the present value of the lease liability at the lease commencement date. Such a rate is based on what the Company estimates it would have to pay a third party to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset, with similar terms, security and economic environment.
